EARLY HISTORY OF THE NOLDS

The name Nold was originally spelled "Noldt". According to the earliest records we have, the Nolds were Swiss farmers and Mennonites who, with many more, were driven from their homes because they refused to bear arms. Since most of the progenitors of these connecting families immigrated to America because of religious persecution, it might be of interest to learn something of the origin, beliefs, and standards of a sect which the members and converts endeavored so valiantly to defend, and for which they were often cruelly tried.

Menno Simons, from whom the Mennonites received their name, was born in Witmarsum, Friesland, in 1492, and was educated to the priesthood. He became interested in the writings of Luther and Zwingli. At the request of a little community of converts, Simons commenced to preach his version of the scriptures, and in 1536 formally severed his connections with the Church of Rome.

The Mennonites were opposed to infant baptism, believing that such a ceremony without repentance was vain. They took not the sword and were entirely non-resistant. In dress and speech they were plain. Even when burning them for their heresies, the Mennonites' ecclesiastical enemies bore testimony as to the purity of their lives, their thrift, and their homely virtues. No other sect, not even the early Christians, suffered such bitter persecution as these people.

In 1525 in Zurich, Switzerland, during the Reformation movement led by Ulrich (Huldreich) Zwingli, a group of men insisted that the Reform must restore the church to New Testament conditions. These men were popularly known as Anabaptists. They called themselves Brethern, and to distinguish them from other groups similarly named they are now referred to as Swiss Brethern.

The principal points of difference of these Brethern from the Reformed Church were:

1. Believer's Church -- admittance was by believer's baptism, as opposed to the State Church where all were admitted by infant baptism.
2. Separation of Church and State -- the church must not be dictated to by the state, must not depend on the state for its support, nor use the state to enforce its decrees.
3. Non-resistance -- evil should not be opposed by force. They refused to use arms in their own defense, or in defense of the state.

In spite of severe persecution this Faith grew rapidly. Because of this persecution, however, many moved to other lands seeking religious toleration. About 1660, partial toleration was granted in the Palatinate region of Germany. This resulted in large numbers moving from Switzerland to that region. Around 1700, when less tolerant rulers controlled the land, a large migration began to America. From the Palatinate, they travelled down the Rhine and joined others of similar faith, the Mennonites, named, as has been noted before, after the great organizer of the church there, Menno Simons.

This migration continued until 1765, the time of the French and Indian War. One of these immigrants was Valentine Noldt. Born in the Palatinate, he was by nationality Swiss, by faith a Swiss Brethren or Mennonite.

VALENTINE NOLDT

Valentine (Felty) Noldt was born in 1727 in Paltz, the Palatinate region of Germany. On September 30, 1754, he arrived in America, having sailed from Rotterdam, Holland, on the ship "Brothers". He was twenty-seven years of age and unmarried.

He bought land in Lower Milford Township, Bucks County, Pa., in the region known as the "Great Swamp". Here he built a house of black walnut logs, to which he brought his bride, Barbara Yoder, a daughter of John Yoder, who settled in Pen Woods, Bucks County, Pa., prior to 1734. In Bucks County records we find that in 1734 a petition for naturalization included the names of John Yoder and John Yoder, Jr., father and brother of Barbara.

Valentine and Barbara Nold had these children (as taken from the Book of Martyrs, in possession of Franklin Nold, Perrysville, Ohio, great, great, great grandson of Valentine). The following is translated from the German:

Maria (a twin)	born Jan. 17, 1761
Efa (Eve)	born Oct. 20, 1762	died Aug. 29, 1797
Jacob	born Aug. 18, 1765
Maria (Mary)	born Nov. 16, 1767	died Jan. 27, 1775

The first Maria must have died when quite young, as the youngest child is also called Maria. Eve married a man by the name of Musselman. Jacob married Susanna School on Oct. 26, 1786.

In the library of a genealogist in Sellersville, Pa., we saw a replica of Valentine's signature taken from the ship's passenger list. In clear but small even script, it was written "Valentine Noldt". "And he wrote that himself", Mr. Cope assured us, "for there is no cross after it."

Valentine must have been a devoted church man, but in the lay capacity only. He was a man of means, as he bought land upon arriving in America, and left an estate of value, as shown by his will, in which he appointed his brother-in-law, Abraham Yoder, as sole executor.

Following is a copy of his will and inventory as taken from a document in the Wills Index of Bucks County, Pa.

JACOB NOLD SR., SON OF VALENTINE NOLDT

Jacob Nold was born April 18, 1765, in Bucks County, Pa. Nothing is known about his early life but he must have been educated, because letters in possession of the family show that he wrote German very well.

As a young man fifteen years of age he was listed as a Private in the Revolution.

Services in Revolution:

Jacob Noel, or Nold, Private in Capt. John McClelland's Co., 1st Pa. regiment, commanded by Col. James Chambers, Sept. - Oct. 1780. (See P. 360, Vol. 23, 3rd Series, Pa. archives)

Jacob Noel listed as private in the New Series Pa. Continental Line, depreciation pay.
(See P. 220, Vol. 4, 5th series, Pa. archives)

All his descendants are eligible to membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution or the Sons of the American Revolution.

From the above we know that Jacob Nold served in the war for a short period of time.

Like most German names, the name Nold was subject to change in spelling. It seems that English-speaking officials spelled names as they sounded to them and the bearers could do little about it.

Jacob Nold was married to Susanna Scheel (also spelled Sell) on October 26, 1786. She was born November 14, 1765, and must have been the granddaughter of Michael Scheel, probably born in the 1690's and our earliest ancestor of whom we have recorded knowledge. A genealogist located his home near the village of Hereford in Berks Co., not many miles from the home of the Nolds.

In 1715 Michael Scheel bought a big German Bible, printed in 1712, which is now in custody of Stella Riehl Mellinger, living in the ancestral home. On one of the fly leaves, surrounded by an ornate border of hand painted flowers, is an inscription printed in German. The English translation reads as follows:

"Michael Scheel I am called, Christ Jesus is my savior. This Bible has come into my possession. I bought it to find out how to learn to trust God, to love my neighbor, to live Christian, to die saved, to inherit Heaven. Year 1715. This Bible is mine. Whoever takes it from me does not do well and may well be a thief."

On another fly leaf of the old Bible are recorded the names of the children of Michael Scheel, Sr.

Jacob Scheel	born March 8, 1718
Abraham Scheel	born March 16, 1720
Maria Scheel	born July 23, 1723
Michael Scheel, Jr.	born July 22, 1726
John Scheel	born January 20, 1729

Michael Scheel, Jr. was married to Catherina Lauer, according to his will, which is filed in Reading. They had five children, three sons and two daughters. The eldest son's name was Michael, and one of their daughters must have been Susanna, the wife of Jacob Nold.

Jacob and Susanna Nold had the following eight children, as taken from the "Book of Martyrs", Translated from German.

Henry Nold	born August 4, 1787	died ?
Mary Nold	born June 19, 1791	died January 3, 1795
Valentine Nold	born May 6, 1794	died November 11, 1794
Michael Nold	born March 7, 1796	died August 4, 1797
Jacob Nold	born June 4, 1798	died September 30, 1864
John Nold	born April 19, 1801	died July 6, 1873
Susanna Nold	born May 7, 1804	died January 6, 1852
Barbara Nold	born March 28, 1809	died November 5, 1899

Although a farmer like his father, Jacob gave more time to the work of the church. In the History of Bucks Co., he is listed as a Bishop in the Mennonite Church. He must have been very active, as in the back of the old Scheel Bible, referred to earlier, is written in German the places he visited, called Appointments of Service, starting in 1813 and lasting until the time he came to Ohio in 1817.

In 1813 a party of men, including Jacob Nold, came out to Ohio to choose a location. Fairfield Township in Columbiana County and Beaver Township, now in Mahoning County, must have looked good to them, for in 1817 they brought their families. In this group was John Yoder, a cousin of Jacob's. Both men settled on farms near Leetonia. Jacob bought a tract of some 300 acres on which there was a new brick house, the house in which the Lester Mellinger family now lives, and which has been occupied by six generations of the same family. A church, which is still in use, was established by him on his farm and Jacob and Susanna are buried in this church cemetery. Two more churches were started in Beaver Township, and later others sprung up in counties farther west.

Four children, Jacob Jr., John, Susanna and Barbara, came to Ohio with the Nolds. Their oldest son, Henry, married to Alevis Bochtel, remained in Pennsylvania for some years, then moved to Columbiana County for a time, practicing his trade of piano making, and eventually moved on to Cincinnati and Covington, Kentucky.

Jacob Jr. married Catherine Zeigler and they reared their family of 14 children in the home to which his parents had come. He also built the grist mill that stood across the road. The agreement between Jacob, Sr. and Jacob, Jr. follows:

Article of Agreement made and concluded by and between Jacob Nold of the county of Columbiana in the State of Ohio, of the one part, and his son, Jacob Nold Junior of the county and state aforesaid, of the other part, Witnesseth that, whereas the said Jacob Nold and Susannah, his wife, have granted, bargained and sold to the said Jacob Nold, Junior, all his real estate, land and tenements, for the consideration mentioned in their deed of conveyance, and reserves his or their maintainance on the premises, during his and his wife's Susannah's natural life times.

The said Jacob Nold, Junior agrees to find them a house and other convenient buildings on the premises, where it may best suit them, and also finds and keeps one horse and two cows, with pasture, hay and other necessary provender for their support, with the privilege of wood, water and privilege of and to the orchard, and as much ground as they may think necessary for a garden, and to raise other necessities, not exceeding three acres of ground. The said Jacob Nold, Junior binds himself and his heirs to find for the said Jacob Nold and his wife Susannah a comfortable way of living in buildings and for their bodily maintainance and support in meat, drink and wearing apparel, whenever they may find it necessary, during their natural lives or either of their life times. In witness where of the said Jacob Nold and Jacob Nold Junior have here unto set their hands and seals the nineteenth day of May, Eighteen hundred and twenty seven.

John Nold married Hannah Wisler and they lived and raised their family of six children on a farm in Beaver Township, now in Mahoning County.

Susanna Nold married George Slutter (Schlotter) and their eleven children were born on what was later known as the Beilhart farm on State Route 164 in Fairfield Township, Columbiana County.

Barbara Nold married John Moyer, and they lived on a farm in Beaver Township where their seven children were born and where Barbara lived until her death at the age of 90 years.

HISTORY OF JACOB, JR. AND CATHERINE ZIEGLER NOLD AND FAMILY

Catherine Ziegler was born in Lehigh County, Pennsylvania, in 1803. She was a daughter of Abraham Ziegler (son of Melchoir), who was born in Lehigh County, Pennsylvania, May 4, 1774. In 1814, he purchased the entire holdings of the Harmony Society, in Harmony, Butler County, Pennsylvania which consisted of 5000 acres of land, of which 2000 acres were in cultivation, and for which he paid the sum of $100,000.

He brought his family to live in their new home, but soon realized that he was unable to meet the unpaid balance of the purchase money and the accruing interest. He made a trip to Harmony, Indiana, (where the Harmony Society had settled), and offered to return the land. But they, too, were involved, and Father Rapp, their head, urged him to hold on, cancelled some interest and agreed to buy any wool they might produce at the price of 50 cents per pound.

Within a few years he cleared the land of all incumbrances. In accomplishing this, he was aided by others of his friends who had settled there, who acted as shepherds for him a stated time and in return received a certain area of land around their homes in compensation. "The contracts were faithfully carried out and all parties concerned reaped rich rewards."

The information above was found in The History of Butler County, Pennsylvania by R. C. Brown, published in 1895. The quotation is taken directly from the above named book.

It has been told by members of the family that Jacob, Jr. met Catherine when he took wool to sell to Abraham Ziegler.

Elizabeth, their oldest child, married Abraham Yoder, born 1819 in Bucks County, Pennsylvania. He was a son of Peter Yoder and a grandson of Abraham Yoder, brother of Barbara Yoder, wife of Valentine Nold. They lived in Beaver Twp., Mahoning County, and were farmers.

John Z. Nold, eldest son of Jacob and Catherine Nold, was a miller by trade and took over his father's mill. Later he sold the mill and built a large brick house on the east part of the homestead farm. He was a farmer until he retired.

Susanna Nold married Abraham Esterly a son of Michael Esterly, who settled near Columbiana in 1804. They built a large brick home on a farm near Columbiana and here raised their family.

Abraham Nold was a farmer and builder. He lived on the west part of the homestead where he built farm buildings and a large new brick home. Most of this farm is now in the town of Leetonia, Ohio.

Mary Nold Blosser and her husband Noah Blosser were farmers and he was also a cattle dealer. They lived in Beaver Twp., Mahoning County, and later in Leetonia, Ohio.

Barbara Nold married Samuel Detwiler who was a son of Joseph and Mary Moyer Detwiler. Barbara and Samuel were farmers and lived in Beaver Twp., Mahoning County. The farm is still in the family being occupied by a grandson, Maurice Detwiler.

Jacob Z. and Nancy Kindig Nold lived in the old homestead for a few years and farmed. Their first children were born here. Later they moved to Medina County where her family lived; the rest of the children were born there.

Samuel Nold married Velina Sitler who was a sister of his brother Abraham's wife Sarah; they were daughters of Solomon Sitler who came to Ohio in 1805. They raised their family on a farm near Lisbon, Ohio.

David and Emmeline Friedt Nold lived near his brother Jacob Z. and his sister Sarah Newcomer near Wadsworth. He was a cabinet maker.

Nancy Nold Stouffer and Jacob Stouffer lived on a farm in Green Twp., Mahoning County when first married. When Jacob Z. wished to leave the homeplace they sold their farm and bought the home farm. Here they raised their family. Their three oldest children died of diphtheria in one month. Later they had eight more children. Their daughter Lydia (Stouffer) Riehl and husband bought the home place after Jacob Stouffer died. Nancy made her home with them and stayed in the old homestead until she died.

George Nold was a miller like his father. He had a mill in Youngstown, Ohio and Mantewa, Ohio, later in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. In his old age he lived in Napanee, Indiana with his son and daughter-in-law, Jacob and Lydia Nold.

Sarah Nold Newcomer, the youngest in the family, lived her early life with her father and mother in the house which had been built for her grandfather on the homestead. She lived with her mother after the death of her father. Later she married Abraham Newcomer and lived on a farm near Wadsworth, Ohio.

HISTORY OF JOHN AND HANNAH WISLER NOLD AND FAMILY

Hannah Wisler had ten brothers and sisters: Elizabeth, 1793; Mary, 1795; Jonas, 1796; Catharine, 1798; John, 1800; Anthony, 1806; Jacob, 1808; Samuel, 1811; Susanna, 1813; Sarah, 1818.

John Nold's name was listed in The History Of Columbiana County, Ohio published in 1879. Beaver Township was in Columbiana County until February 16, 1846, when Mahoning County was formed out of the northern row of Columbiana County townships, and the southern two rows of Trumbull County townships. About 1830 John Nold, Peter Yoder, Sr., Henry Thoman, Sr. and George Houck laid out village lots in East Lewistown, near the Nold home. Later they had a farm home in Section 24, Green Township, Mahoning County, and after that they lived near the Boyer School.

Susanna, Henry and Elizabeth lived with their families on farms, in or near Beaver Township all their lives. Henry and his cousins, Jonas and Anthony Wisler (sons of Anthony, 1806), threshed for some years, first with horse power, then with a steam engine. John Wisler took the place of his father Jonas; later Christian Leshar, Manassos Ziegler and William Nold carried on the work until about 1900.

Jacob Nold and his wife settled on a farm at the center of Poland Township, Mahoning County. Jacob and his sons, John and George also threshed.

Hannah and her husband moved to Union Township, Elkhart County, Indiana, February 5, 1864 and lived in the Union Center schoolhouse for six weeks, until they built a log cabin on their 80 acre farm across the road. They cleared the farm later. Catharine also lived in Indiana the latter part of her life.

HISTORY OF GEORGE AND SUSANNA NOLD SLUTTER AND FAMILY

Susanna Nold married George Schlotter (Slutter) in September, 1823. They took a trip back to Bucks County to visit childhood friends, and in Philadelphia they bought the pink luster china cups and saucers which we still have.

They bought a farm on the Columbiana-Lisbon Road. The house in which they lived, their eleven children were born and Susanna died, stood a few rods north of the present brick house which was built by the Beilharz in 1871. Seven of their children - Barbara, Lydia, Magdalena, Sarah, William, Nancy and Hannah - lived to maturity.

In the early days diptheria sometimes went through a family taking the lives of several children within a matter of hours. Some of the relatives "up north" -- meaning Mahoning County -- were stricken with it and no one able to care for them. Since Susanna had grown-up daughters who could carry on at home, they sent for her. She couldn't refuse but feared she might bring it home to her own family. She did, and she herself died of diptheria January 8, 1852. Hannah was then only four years old. Knowing she was near death, she said that her Bible, bought by her great-grandfather, Michael Scheel in 1715, was to be given to her youngest child, since there was nothing more she could do for her. My mother, Hannah, left it to me, her youngest child. I have placed it in the care of Stella Riehl Mellinger, who lives in the old Nold home and has made of it a place of which we can be proud. Everyone who cares enough to go to see the old Nold home can also see the old Bible, which, after 240 years in the family belongs to all of us.

The Mennonites wanted their children to read, write and speak the "mother-tongue" - German. To that end they established their own schools in the early days in Pennsylvania. They told us in Bucks County that the first schools were held in the meeting-houses, and later in a separate room built on to the church for that purpose. Later they were sent to the English-speaking public schools. This, and the indifference of public officials, often resulted in peculiar changes in the spelling of names. When little George Schlotter was ten years old he was sent to the public school, and the teacher changed the spelling of his name to Slutter, and for three generations they used that version. Lawrence, the last to bear the name in our line, had it legally changed, with his grandfather's approval, to the original Schlotter. But his death in 1952, without heirs, ends the name in our line.

In April, 1857, George Slutter married his second wife, Elizabeth Overholt, of Medina County. She was the daughter of Matthias Tinstman and was reared on the farm later owned by Samuel Heaton.

John and Barbara Beilhart bought the original home and raised their family there. George Slutter bought from Allen Way the place in Unionville (Cool Springs) that was formerly a tavern, and moved his family there. It now consisted of Nancy, aged 12, Hannah, aged 9, the new stepmother and her youngest son, Jacob Overholt, aged 13. They got along very well together, but owing -- I think -- to financial difficulties, he sold that farm three years later and moved to his wife's farm in Medina County, where he died in 1868. He was a kind, conscientious and hard-working man but apparently lacking in business ability.

Hannah went to make her home with an older sister, Lana Erwin, and Nancy went to another sister, Sarah Crouse. The girls had never been separated and it went hard with them.

About 1870 Lana and Harvey Erwin moved to Illinois -- first to Gardner, then to Herscher. Nancy went with them and died there of typhoid fever in 1871.

Sarah and Hiram Crouse moved to Kansas in 1881, first to Ottawa and later to Waverly.

William B. Slutter was a buggy maker and had a shop in Columbiana for some years. Later they moved to Canton, Ohio, where he and his capable wife managed the Conrad Hotel for many years.

Hannah married Erwin Caldwell and they lived their lives on the farm midway between Beilhart's and Unionville.
